

Millions for Defense
Against the inroads of that subtle, lurking foe to human health, malaria, had been expended uselessly when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters appeared upon the scene and demonstrated its power as a preventive and curative of the dreaded scourge. When the "gold fever" raged in 1849 in California, malaria was contemporaneous with it at the "diggins," and wrought dreadful havoc among the miners. Then and subsequently on the isthmus of Panama, and wherever in the tropics malarial disease is most virulent, the Bitters became the recognized safeguard. For the effects of exposure and fatigue, miasma-poisoned air and water, sea sickness and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, the Bitters affords prompt relief. Invalids of all sorts will find it fully adequate to their needs.

WATER at a high temperature cannot be raised any considerable distance by suction, as the vapor discharged from the water so heated follows the receding pistons of the pump and resists the entrance of the water; consequently, to pump hot water always place the supply above the pump, so that it will be supplied from a head.

Swelling in the Neck

"Large knots of scrofula nature came on my wife's neck for four years. When she had taken two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla we could see the swelling was going down. Now the glands have assumed their natural appearance and she is entirely free from this trouble. Our children were afflicted with swellings of the neck, but this season they have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has purified their blood, built them up, and they have been free from all illness this winter." Big Haul by Revenue Officials in Tennessee—Battle with Bandits in Arizona—New Grand Fire of the Old Fellows—Coinage of Silver.

Diamond Is Deserter.
One final change was made in the tables of the base-ball league by the closing games. It was a rise of one point for the St. Louis Browns over the Cincinnati Comiskey's team. The Browns played their last game at home and fortunately had an easy team for opponents—the Washingtons. The Browns beat the Senators twice and as the Cincinnati could not do better than tie with the Cleveland, the St. Louis passed the Reds and finished in ninth place. At Louisville Brooklyn won one and lost one. Chicago finished in the eighth place, which is better than its early performance in the year warranted. The season of 1894 is at an end. A complete record of all the games played by all the clubs in the National League follows. It shows how many victories each club won from all the other clubs, how many lost and to whom, and the closing position of each club in the race:

MOONSHINERS CAPTURED.

Largest Haul Ever Made in Kentucky—Men, Women and Boys.

The largest gang of moonshiners that ever left the Big Sandy Valley passed through Ashland, Ky., Monday on route to Louisville, where they will be given early hearings in the United States Court. The crowd was in charge of United States Marshal "Sid" Greer, of Johnson County, assisted by a score of deputies, and represented the hauls of two months past. In the past six months Greer and his deputies have destroyed thirty-seven separate stills and the hands of gallons of their product, commonly designated "moonshine." They have arrested about 25 offenders and spotted numerous others, who will be taken as soon as the opportunity offers. In the capture of the various gangs some thrilling work has been done, and some narrow escapes experienced. Seven of Greer's officers are now laid up for repairs at different towns in Floyd and Johnson Counties, while about twenty of the moonshiners are also regaining their strength in various up-Sandy jails. The latter will follow their in re fortunate fellows to Louisville and to the penitentiary as soon as their condition will permit of a change of quarters. In the gang Monday were 108 offenders. Their ages ranged from 15 to 50, and in the degree of their crime the was in a equal variance. Some of the men have grown old and gray in the business, some had followed it out a short while, others had retailed the spirits for the makers, and others had bodily labeled it sorghum and brought it out by the barrel in push boats. The boys were usually the sons of the old operators, who were freed into the work from childhood and literally knew nothing else. Several women were also among the lot.

GRAND SIRE OF THE WORLD.

John W. Stebbins Elected to High Office by the Old Fellows.

John W. Stebbins, recently elected Grand Sire of the world in Old Fellowship by the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Chattanooga, Tenn., is a native of New York, and resides at Rochester. After graduating from Union College he became principal of Macedon Academy. He studied law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1851 was elected to the State Legislature. He was one of the committee of fifteen, of which Horace Greeley was a member, which drafted the terms of agreement that led to the uniting of the old Whig party with the Republicans. Mr. Stebbins became an Odd Fellow in 1870. He was Grand Master for two terms; seventeen years ago became a member of the Grand Lodge, and was successively Grand Warden, Deputy Grand Master, and Grand Master. He has risen from Chairman of the Appeals Committee to the office of Grand Sire.

The Grand Sire in his annual report said that since the last convention in the South, held in Atlanta twenty years ago, the membership in the Southern States had increased from 1,000 to 5,000, and to the people of the South Odd Fellowship had become an established institution. The total membership of the order was now 180,000, or, including the sisters of the Rebekah degrees, 280,000. To this should be added a membership of 25,000 in foreign jurisdictions, making a combined membership of 300,000 men and women. The net income in membership during the year had been $3,000. This was less than the year previous, but it might be accounted for in the United States by a reason of financial stringency that lessened the resources of the people. In Canada the order has made greater progress than in any year of its history.

In no department of the work had there been such decided progress as in making provision for the aged members and orphan children. In many States new homes had been opened, while numerous jurisdictions were accumulating funds and preparing buildings for the laudable work.

WHEN WILL HE DIE?

Great Anxiety for the Health of the King of Siam.

The absorbing subject of conversation in Bangkok is the condition of the Siamese monarch. When will he die? What will happen afterward? Questions like these are heard on all sides. His death has been reported at least a half a dozen times. Indeed, not a few believe he is dead and the intimation withheld for state reasons from the general public. The foreign representatives even share the general ignorance on the subject, and J. G. Scott, British charge d'affaires, deemed it advisable to bring down another gunboat from Hong Kong in view of the alarming rumors in high circles. The state of the city is thus one of intense excitement. It has been asserted that the king is suffering from an attack of fever, brought on by residence at Colichang, an island in the Gulf of Siam. The real cause of ailment, however, is theet. For years cholera has been the favorite drug of the Siamese monarch, and now its potent effects are felt with a severity that leaves small hope of recovery.

Maha Vajiravudh is the Crown Prince, oldest son of Chulalongkorn, who will probably succeed his father. In Siam, however, the right of primogeniture is not fully recognized as a fundamental law of the realm, and the Serabodde, or Council of State, upon the death of the reigning sovereign, may elect a king. The Crown Prince, whose full name is Somdet Chofa Maha Vajiravudh, is but 16 years old.

COINAGE OF SILVER.
Dollars to the Number of 1,597,233 Turned Out of the Mint.

Secretary Carlisle made a statement concerning the coinage of silver dollars under this administration, the coinage being under the unpeeled portion of the Sherman act. It shows that since the administration came into power $1,597,233 standard silver dollars have been coined, of which $23,714 have been seigniorage. The Secretary says:

When the law provides that redeemed treasury notes may be reissued, it also passes an express limitation upon the power to reissue by declaring that "no greater or less amount of such notes shall be outstanding at any time than the cost of the silver to the United States." The Secretary says that the Treasury has been careful to see that the redemption of notes held in the Treasury purchased by such notes.

When such notes are redeemed in gold there is no obstacle in the way of their reissue, because such redemption does not affect the stock of silver held in the Treasury under the act of July 4, 1890, but when they are redeemed with silver coined from the bullion purchased under that act, they must be retired and coined for other use. There would be, after the redemption and reissue, a greater amount of notes outstanding than the cost of the silver originally purchased and then held in the Treasury, and this is expressly prohibited by the statute. The purpose of Congress was to prevent the duplication of the currency, which would be the case if the notes and silver purchased with the notes could be outstanding at the same time.

Treasury notes received in the ordinary course of business, or redeemed in gold or exchanged for silver dollars not coined from bullion purchased under the act of July 4, 1890, are not retired and coined. All such notes are re-issued. Prior to the last day of July, 1891, silver dollars to the amount of $55,318,264 were coined from the bullion purchased under that act. The so-called silver dollars arising from this coinage was $5,867,803, which was paid into the Treasury as a miscellaneous receipt, leaving $29,450,461 to be held as a fund to provide for the redemption of the treasury notes, as provided by law.

BATTLE WITH BANDITS.

Three Men Hold Up a Southern Pacific Express in Arizona.

The boldest express robbery ever known in Arizona was committed near Maricopa Monday night. The train held up was the express-bound Southern Pacific, and the robbers are believed to have secured $10,000 in gold. The robbers were pursued and in a desperate fight with the Sheriff's posse one robber was shot and another captured. Two of the bandits who attacked the train were asked and the third, who was a mere boy, was not. The robber who previously climbed up on the train captured the head-brakeman and compelled him to turn on the air brakes and stop the train. The other bandit covered the engineer, who with the brakeman was compelled to go back to the express car and induce the messenger to open the door. The boy was then shoved into the car. When he was searching for express treasures the two bandits guarded each side of the train. When the boy came from the car the trainmen, who were under the bandits' guns, were compelled to march with the bandits, who they called upon to throw up their hands. Instead he turned upon the officers and fired, but a charge of buckshot from the sheriff's gun brought him to the ground. Another was afterward captured, but the third escaped.

Dogs and Their Playthings.

The dog, the greatest friend of man, is known to emulate the virtues and even the vices of mankind; but few would suspect the intelligent and easily Newfoundland dog of as great a love of playthings as any child for its dolls.

An owner of as splendid a Newfoundland as ever gladdened the heart of Landseer records the fact that it was intensely fond of its playthings.

"It was in the orchard," said this dog's master, "that it usually found its playthings and conveyed them to its sanctum. These consisted chiefly of sardine tins, flower-pots, chunks of wood, etc., but the prime favorite of all its possessions was a large teakettle.

"This it would bark to and play with for hours together. By day it kept it in a corner of its stall and carried apples to it from the orchard. At night it sleeps close to the doggie's side, sometimes quite buried up with straw."

It was clear that there was nothing half so sweet in life to this Newfoundland dog as that old black kettle, as anyone soon discovered on making any attempt to deprive it of its loved plaything.

Everybody Is Going South Now.

The only section of the country where the farmers have made any money the past year is in the South. If you wish to change you should go down now and see for yourself. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad and connections will sell tickets to all points South for trains of October 2, November 6, and December 4, at one fare round trip. Ask your ticket agent about it, and if he can not sell you excursion tickets write to G. P. Moore, General Passenger Agent, Louisville, Ky., or Geo. L. Cross, N. W. P. A., Chicago, Ill.

Philosophy of a Five-Year-Old.

A five-year-old Boston boy's ethical philosophy was brought out the other day, when his father told him how glad he was that he had been such a good boy all through Sunday, when he was left much to himself. The boy answered in a matter-of-fact way, "I haven't been thinking about good. I think I'm better when I don't think about it. I don't think of anything—naughty or anything; I just think about what a good time I'm having."—New York Tribune.

REV. IRL R. HICKS (The Storm Prophet).
Copyrighted by the World & Works Pub. Co., St. Louis, Mo.

OCTOBER, 1894.—October begins bright and cool, growing warmer in west, with secondary storms crossing from west to east. Frosty nights will follow. Another warm storm wave will start from west about 20th, bringing rain along its path to the east during 25th to 30th. Cold and frost will attend clearing conditions following. The 15th, 16th, and 17th are reactionary storm dates, with Full Moon 14th. Cold and frosty weather will follow storm furries about these dates. The 25th to 27th is a storm period affected by both Venus and Mercury. Storms on lakes and seas will be dangerous. This is especially true of the reactionary storms on and touching the 25th, 26th. Venus on 25th, Mercury on 26th, New Moon on 27th, "Vulcan" path, compose a combination that renders the closing days of the month precarious on land and sea. Rain, turning to sleet and snow, attended by dangerous gales on the waters. Cold and freezing follow.
